DATE: 19 February 1958

IO BRIEFINGS

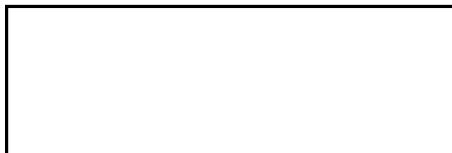

On 13 February, three short briefings on the Agency and the Intelligence Products Exhibit were given to the IAC members who had been invited to attend the Exhibit.

DEPARTMENTAL BRIEFING

W+ C { The National Security Agency has requested that, instead of sending their usual monthly quota of 10 persons to the Departmental Briefing, the program be presented at Fort Meade. It would be more convenient for them from the point of view of transportation; more of their people could attend (they have a number of auditoriums, one seating over 500 people); and, because of the uniform clearances of the members of the audience, "special intelligence" could be integrated with "collateral intelligence." NSA was asked to send a formal request to the DTR. This briefing would be for their regular professional people, apart from the one now given as an integral part of NSA's Senior Officers Course--which is run four times a year for 12 persons each time.

MISCELLANEOUS

1. The CIA Introduction was cancelled this week because of the storm, and the people scheduled to attend were rescheduled for next Monday.
2. There have not been any FSO briefings recently. This is because the Department of State is not at present taking in new FSO's due to budgetary considerations.
